MPC Poll On S.B. Cards

A poll is going to be conducted in the near future for the purpose of determining the student feeling towards having the purchase of student body cards mandatory. This survey is being taken on every college campus in the state of California. The results will be sent to the State Assemblyman in each school district.

At the meeting of the CJCSGA held recently in Riverside, the Northern conference passed a resolution in favor of mandatory cards, while the Southern conference opposed the bill.

A few of the arguments in favor include: the school could operate on a definite budget, social activities could be expanded, more student benefits would be provided, everyone would support and contribute to student activities, instead of just a few carrying the burden, and it would create a closer relationship between the school and the students.

A few of the arguments against include the possibility that the dues would be raised to the maximum amount, the possibility that this may be a financial burden on some people, that too many restrictions would be placed on our money by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, that there are some students who do not wish to join student activities, and the theory that this would be an infringement on free education.

Work-Play Day Scheduled For Next Wednesday

Once again with spring in full swing comes MPC's annual Work-Play Day. According to Mrs. Marshall, "This is the time when the faculty goes all out to see that the students have fun."

Department groups from 10 a.m. to 12 noon will meet in various designated places to take part in work projects. Club members who are working on booths for the carnival will do so at this time. At noon, lunches will be sold by the sophomores, proceeds to go towards their gift to the college. The band will present a concert at this time.

AUCTION

Articles that have not been claimed from the lost and found department will be auctioned off. Serving as auctioneer will be Carl Vachal.

"Last year I got a good raincoat for 75 cents," reported Mrs. Marshall.

PLAY

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, so from 1 p.m. to 5:30--we play. Department groups will gather on the football field to compete in relays. There will be enough relays so everyone in each group can run at least once. Badges will be awarded to all runners winning the first three places. Win-points will be compiled towards the Championship Banner to be awarded to the team collecting the most points.

One of the highlights of the competion will be a tug of war between the freshmen and sophomores.

Yearbook Features School Colors And Hardback Cover

"The yearbook has finally gone to press after a year of hard work," said Sandy Wright, El Paisano editor. "I'm sure it will make another big hit with the students. We are featuring the hard-back cover again and the school colors." Sandy informed the reporter.

This is the seventh year the yearbook has gone to press; it has been published annually since 1948, the year MPC opened its campus.

This edition has over a hundred pages of pictures and comments to entertain the students and faculty members.

The annual staff includes Sandy Wright, editor; Jim Angier, co-editor; Bob Blaisdell and John Crossman, photographers; Tony Russo and Gene Rumrill, sports; and the rest of the staff consists of Pat Curran and Ann Graham. Mr. Huden is the advisor of the yearbook.

The portraits were taken by the Monterey Studio. The printing was done by Lee Printers in Monterey. The cover was by R. K. Smith, of Los Angeles.

The yearbook will cost $2 with student body card and $4 without.

Cadets Need Men

A two-rotor helicopter brought a Naval Aviation Cadet selection team to MPC last Wednesday to furnish information on the combined regular and reserve officer candidate program.

In the helicopter, which landed on the campus at 9 a.m., were Commander Robert Swendon and Lt. Robert Greer, who are both combat veterans stationed at the Oakland Naval Air Station.

The interviewing officers saw students on the campus in the Student Union throughout the morning, and gave qualifying examinations in the evening.

The Navy flight training requires 18 months, after which cadets are commissioned Ensigns in the Naval Reserve or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Reserve.

TOURNAMENTS

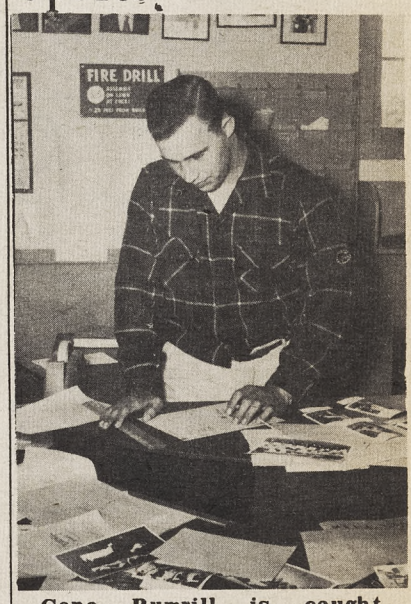

Following will be tournaments in volleyball, tennis, and archery. Rivalry is the word in the student-faculty softball game which will be held from 4 to 5:50. After the game, the barbeque will be held at the barbeque pits near the football field.

CARNIVAL

County Fair time with booths and dancing will liven the Student Union till 11 p.m. The Championship Banner will be awarded to the department group having the most points.

Buses will leave at 11 p.m. to take students to Santa Cruz and Watsonville.

Sports

Schools Participate In Open House

Public Schools Week was celebrated on the Monterey peninsula last week for the thirty-sixth time. Open house was held in the Monterey City Elementary District and the Monterey Union High School District. Also participating in the event were the Monterey City Teachers Association, Glen T. Goodwill, superintendent of schools, Dr. Calvin C. Flint, president of MPC, the Pacific Grove Unified District, and the Carmel District.

MPC OPEN HOUSE

MPC classes were open to visitors all week. An official school Open House and Senior Visiting Day will be held on May 7 at MPC for local high school seniors. Visiting students will be treated like freshmen enrolled in their first courses and will attend typical college lecture classes, see scientific demonstrations, and meet MPC students and faculty.

El Yanqui Wins

El Yanqui was last week awarded a first-place certificate in the thirty-first annual contest, conducted by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at Columbia University in New York. Issues entered in the contest covered the period from Easter 1954 through January 1955.

The editors during this period were Ralph Hamilton and Wes Cummins.

The present staff of El Yanqui includes

Mrs. Rosemary Miller is the Varitypist.

Mel Huden has been advisor of El Yanqui since its beginning seven years.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I always write my term paper criticisms illegibly so the student won't be able to take issue with what I say."

Six Years Ago At MPC

Excerpts from the pages of EL YANQUI in April 1949:

"OUR TEACHER"--

Morgan Stock, a former student of MPC, has made his way to Stanford University, and was cast in the title role in a production given by the Stanford Players, David Belasco's "The Return of Peter Grim."

FIRST YEAR, AN AWARD--

El Yanqui was awarded last week a second place certificate in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association national contest. The first six issues of the fledging newspaper, which is in its first year of publication, were submitted to the contest which was conducted under the auspices of Columbia University in New York.

WHAT ARE THE HOGANITES?--

Quite a few people are still wondering what the Hoganites are...Not long ago they gathered in force and adopted a constitution in which they stated they would go all out in publicity work for athletic events, organize cheering sections, and social activities for the benefit of the whole student body. One of their latest activities is a bowling tournament.

THE GULCH IN '49--

The MPC baseball diamond has received another recent addition, a good backstop. The backstop, about fifteen feet high and sixty feet long, will put shagging down the east gulch after foul balls to a minimum, hereby speeding up practice.

HOT DEBATE--

As a direct result of the most popular question on the MPC campus, "Should eighteen-year-olds be allowed to vote?" a red hot debate is on the slate for the MPC radio broadcast. Today, at 4:15, on radio station KDON, Mel Huden and Ralph Smith, MPC instructors, will hash over this controversial topic.

FIRST EL PAISANO--

Joan McGrath is winding up a tough job as editor of the El Paisano, the first yearbook put out by the college.

SOUND FAMILIAR?--

Spring sports are taking quite a beating at MPC. Roy Anderson's efforts to scrap together a golf team were in vain...Frank Young, science prof and swim coach a la volunteer, is disappointed at recent developments of his aqua squad.. Although the baseball team is still fortified in most positions except pitching, Dillons' horsehiders are a far cry from the squad that turned out for spring practice. Coach Han Manfield's tennis team appears to be the only outfit safe from the perils of diminishing man power.

MPC ON THE RADIO--

By the end of the MPC radio program last Friday over KDON, everyone in the radio class, 27 strong, had participated. Altogether, it is estimated that over seventy students and faculty have participated in the programs this year which have gone on regularly at 4:30 p.m. each Friday.

AN EDITORIAL THAT FAILED--

...MPC may, it is rumored, have clocks and buzzers installed...But MPC is not a high school... this paper will support any argument that upholds the capability of college pupils to carry the simple responsibility of adhering to a time schedule. If people find it impossible to do so, they should not be here. No, the installation of a bell system or even of clocks in classrooms is not the answer, and would definitely be a mark on the college's record.

Ground Breaking For New Armory

This surveyor is one of the many construction men who are working to complete the new armory on the MPC campus.

All the turmoil about who turned the first puny shovelfull was viewed with disdain by this bulldozer operator who had scoured the earth for half a day before school officials realized the job was underway. The next day the officialdom, with al propriate pomp and ceremony, posed for a photo for the daily paper.

The first real bona fide shovelfull of dirt was actually turned over by Mel Huden who slipped behind a tree when no one was looking and tossed a divot into the air with his manure fork.

State Teacher Income Level

The annual paycheck of the average full-time classroom teacher in California is less than that of 41 per cent of the nation's families, according to a report released this week.

The report referred to the California State Department of Education survey of teachers' salaries, showing that the estimated average salary of the state's teachers is $4,880, and quoted a U.S. Department of Commerce report that 41 percent of the nation's families have an annual income of $5000 or more.

State Income High

Furthermore, the State Teachers' Association disclosed, in California — a state in which the average income exceeds those of the rest of the nation — only 39 per cent of the teachers this year have an income reaching the national average.

Bids On Sale Soon

Bids for the Spring Prom will go on sale beginning Wednesday, $2.50 with student body cards and $3.50 without. The prom will be on May 28 in the San Carlos Hotel.

Work Begins On New Gym

On-campus construction of the new National Guard got underway last week. This new armory will serve as MPC's basketball gymnasium as well as being the Monterey National Guard's permament home.

After the official groundbreaking ceremonies took place, a bulldozer began leveling the ground in preparation for construction.

Plans call for a main building of about 60 by 120 feet with offices, kitchen, and supply rooms to be attached. The building will be of rigid steel form with poured concrete walls. The roof will be of wood composition.

This $95,000 building will be located just west of the football stadium. A $7,000 oak-wood floor will be included to give the Lobo basketballers a home court.

The Granite Construction Co. is handling the job.

In this unposed shot we have two of the leading sports figures of Del Rey Oaks and Monte Vista, Max Tadlock and Bob De Hart, purportedly turning over the first shovelful of dirt in the construction of the new armory. The volleyball held by Dean Tadlock is a fitting symbol of the basketball to be played by our next Lobo team. The armory's wooden floor will be installed by the Monterey Board of Trustees.

Labor Management Forges Ahead

by Dick Cantu

The labor and management class of 1955, supervised by Dr. Blacow, is well underway this semester.

We can actually back up the statment that this class is the melting pot for future business executives who want to mold their own ideas when they crash the business world.

GRADES ARE WAGES

To emphasize it a little more, every student enrolled has a guaranteed annual wage of a "C" letter grade provided he keeps up his assignments and participates in a few academic quizzes that may arise.

This does not mean we're satisfied with just a "C"--our aims are much higher. This is accomplished by certain executive positions that are available such as chairman, vice chairman, managements, lawyer, labor's lawyer, secretary, treasurer, shop steward, evaluation secretary, evaluation committee members, and public relations officer.

With a little effort, enthusiasm, and interest on your part, you can raise that guaranteed "C" to an effortless "A."

We've been asked if this can be true or if it is a figment of our own imaginations...well, it is true. We even have our own contract with management to seal the bond of membership.

PLANNED TRIP

We invited management to the Student Union and talked his lawyer into letting the class visit the Wrigley Plant in Santa Cruz sometime after Easter.

Just imagine, chewing gum in mass production right before your very eyes...who knows, maybe they'll hand out samples and let us gum up the works.

If we want to go to the Student Union and have a cup of coffee and discuss any business on hand then we just get ourselves into a huddle and vote and the "I's" have it.

Masterminds get their wheels of progress on the road and the sky's the limit. So if you want to climb onto our gravy train, just give your name, address and phone number to your counselor in this fall's registration and prove to yourself that "experience is the best teacher."

Astronomy Class Visits S.F. Planetarium

Stars, planets, and meteorites were among the many heavenly bodies seen by Mr. Kenneth Peterson's astronomy class when the group journeyed to Morrison Planetarium in SanFrancisco on April 21.

SPECIAL SHOW HELD

The planetarium, located in GoldenGatePark, provided a special show for the MPC class.

The show began at 2 p.m. and featured the general overview of the science of astronomv. The regular show, which began at 3:30, dealt with the planetarium projector.

PLANETARIUM PROJECTOR

The shows were held in a large, circular auditorium, with a hugh dome used as a screen for the planetarium projector. The projector shot images of four thousand stars, nine planets, the sun, and the moon onto the screen.

AURORA BOREALIS SEEN

Students witnessed the aurora borealis, a lightening storm, sunrise and sunset, and passing meteorites.

SLIDE FILMS SHOWN

A series of slide films, showing scenes of the moon, the sun, and distant galaxies, were projected onto the dome of the planetarium building. While the films were being shown, the lecturer provided information about each separate picture.

GOLDEN GATE PARK TOURED

Between shows, the students were able to tour the aquarium, the arts and science building, and other attractions of Golden Gate Park.

After the program, the students were free to do as they pleased until the bus left at midnight. Many went to the theater, many went to the show, and many went bowling, but all got home late that night.

Mr. Peterson and Mr. Tadlock accompanied the group.

Summer Session Opens July 5

A six weeks summer session will be offered on campus beginning July 5, stated Dr. E. C. Haderlie, Dean of the summer school. Classes are scheduled throughout the day and evening hours.

Lower division courses offering from two to four units include art, marine biology, chemistry, Englist, speech, history, math, and typing. There is no tuition for these courses.

Two upper division courses in teacher training offered by U.C. Extension Division at a fee of $18 a course will be held in the evenings.

The Subject A English exam, which must be taken before students are admitted to college English courses, will be given May 21 on the campus. Anyone failing to pass this exam may take remedial English in the summer session.

Council Corner

by Wes Cummins

At the last meeting of the executive council it was suggested that MPC should have a Code of Conduct including all regulations previously passed concerning dances, the library, the lounge, and other student facilities. Mr. Reinstedt was put in charge of the committee to draw up such a code. Also on his committee will be Miss Blair, Miss Down, and Mr. Rulofson.

By a straw vote it was also thought that we should have a Vehicle Code including the regulations governing the use of the new station wagon. Mr. Taras and Mr. Southwell are on the committee to present this code.

Mr. Morgan made arrangements for Ernie's sign shop in PacificGrove to paint the head of Louie the Lobo with top hat and cane on the side of our new Mercury. The colors will be red and white to match the color of the exterior.

Mr. Morgan asked that all council members submit budget requirements to him so he can make out the budget for next year's term.

The science department would like to have an open house in its museum. Mr. Cummins is in charge of publicity, and is to see Dick Menafee and Dr. Haderlie for further details.

An interesting aerial photo of MPC when it was first being constructed way back in 1948. MPC now, according to Dr. Flint, will again need new buildings to keep up with the influx of junior college students.

Blood Bank Drive

Last Thursday, April 28 was the day the students of MPC donated blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Only 26 students made a donation. This is not a very good showing considering the size of our student body. It is hoped that we will do better next year.

Hogans Have Bowling Party

While talking to Ed Lee, a Hogan member we found that the social life at MPC is still up to par. The Hogans threw a bowling party for its members on Friday, April 22.

25 MEMBERS ATTENDED

A total of about 25 members showed up for the contest held at the local bowling alley in Watsonville, Some of the members came from both Monterey and Santa Cruz to get in on the fun. A few of the really hot-shot bowlers brought their girl friends along to cheer them on.

Dick Cantu came flashing through with a 180 to take all honors.

The proceedings wound up around midnight. The tired but happy Hogans (all but a few) called it an evening.

Chapman Elected

Warren Chapman was recently elected president of the MPC faculty association when the group met to vote for officers and committee members for the academic year 1955-56.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, librarian, was elected secretary, and Duncan Sprague, treasurer and social chairman.

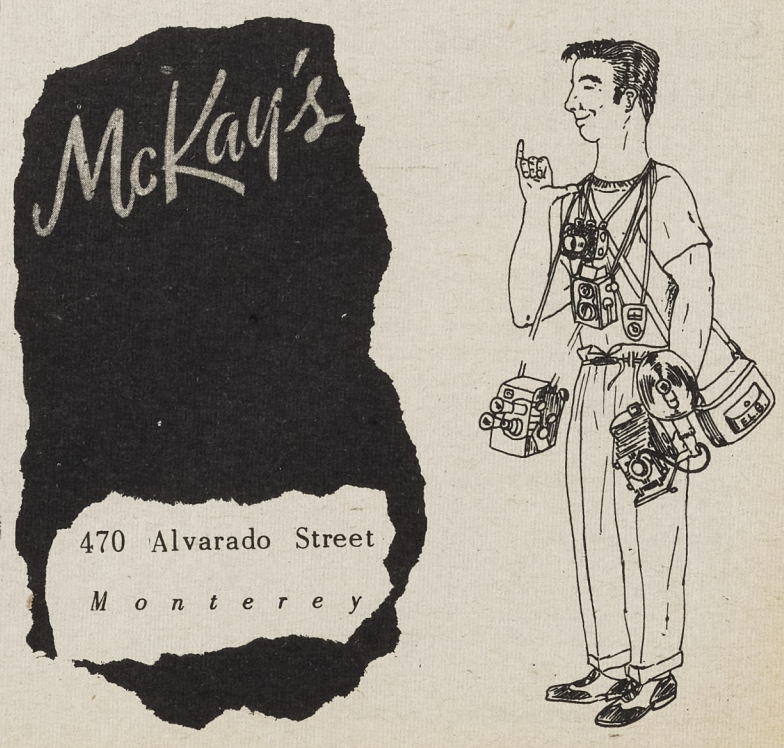

Elected to serve on the Finance Committee for one year were Dr. Bruce Hubbard, and for three years, Reuben Johnson.

August Armanasco was elected to a three-year term as a member of the Professional Relations committee.

New members to serve on the Curriculum committee are MissMaryRile for one year, andRichard Matteson for four years.

New members selected for positions in the MCTA are Kenneth Peterson as a member of the Board of Directors, and Duncan Sprague for second vice president. MissRuth Buck was chosen as building representative.

Dr. Louis Balsam was selected to serve on the Administrative Advisory council.

Golf Team Improving

MPC's golf team has been improving as time goes by. The players are Adrian Monteil, Pete Geyer, Ted Smith, Jerry Seibes, and Vince Tomasello. Kneeling is coach Tom Saake.

Jerry Seibes has a lot of faith in Vince Tomasello. Looking on are Ted Smith, Adrian Monteil, and Tony Russo.

Lobo Lowdown

by Harvey

It has been suggested to the Lobo Lowdown writers that a small notation about the tennis team ought to be published this week.

It was contended that the team should be awarded MPC jackets if it wins the conference again this year.

This would be the sixth championship taken by the MPC racquet squad.

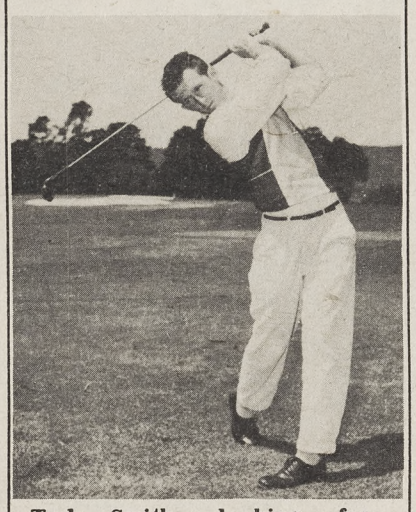

How about the JACKETS?

The MPC track team is slowly diminishing. Wes Cummins, mile runner, has dropped from the roster. Bob Younger, top man on the team, was the only one representing MPC at the recent Hartnell meet.

Lobo Golfers

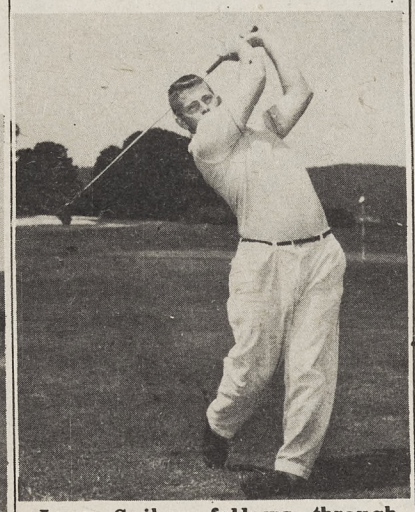

Pete Geyer is top man on the Lobo golf team.

Ted Smith, looking for the ball, can't believe he hit it.

Adrian Monteil, tees off in a recent practice session.

Jerry Seibes follows through after a long drive.

BULLETIN

The conference tennis matches will be held here on May 10.

Vince Tomasello, of basketball fame, swats one.

MPC To Clash With Hartnell In Tennis

MPC's tennis team has only one more conference match, that with Hartnell, scheduled for tomorrow. It is expected to be a powerful clash as both MPC and Hartnell are undefeated. If MPC wins, it will be the sixth championship for the Lobo team.

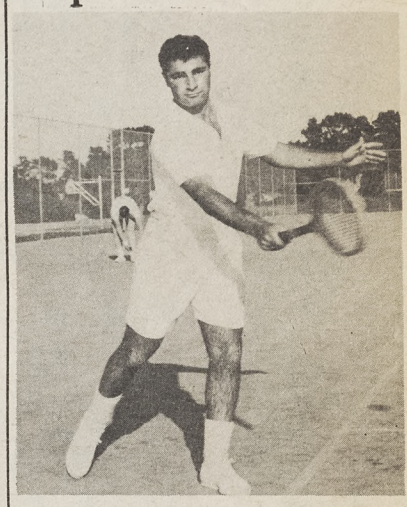

MPC, in a brief summary, won its first conference tussle over San Jose JC by default when San Jose did not have a team at the time of the match.

The second conference struggle ended in a score of 7-0 over East Contra Costa, each man on the Lobo team taking his match.

Menlo came very close to overthrowing MPC, when Paul Chalmers and Bob Blaisdell were unavailable. Chalmers was sick and Blaisdell was on a band trip. Tony Russo and Randy Reinstedt took on most of the load. MPC won 4-3.

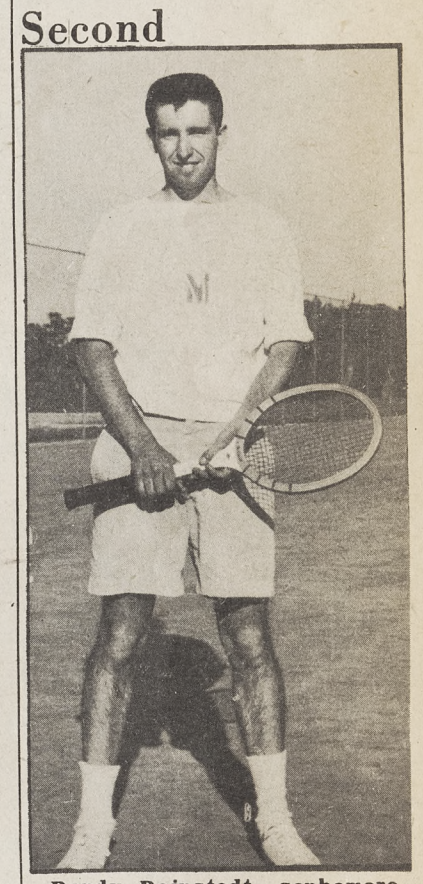

The last conference match with Concordia JC, was forfeited to MPC because Concordia did not field a team.

Top Man

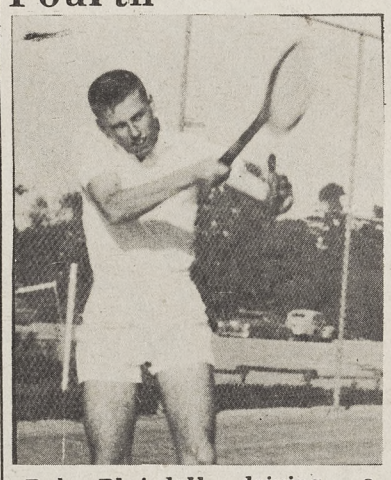

Tony Russo, number one on the tennis team, looks at the cameraman in disgust. Tony, with the pained expression, doesn't seem to be able to smile. He is a freshman and will be back to play tennis again next season.

Second

Randy Reinstedt, sophomore tennis player, holds down the second position on the team.

Fourth

Bob Blaisdell, driving a forehand, is fourth man on the Lobo team. Paul Chalmers is third man. Bob will go to San Francisco State next year.

Work-Play Day Is Here Again At MPC

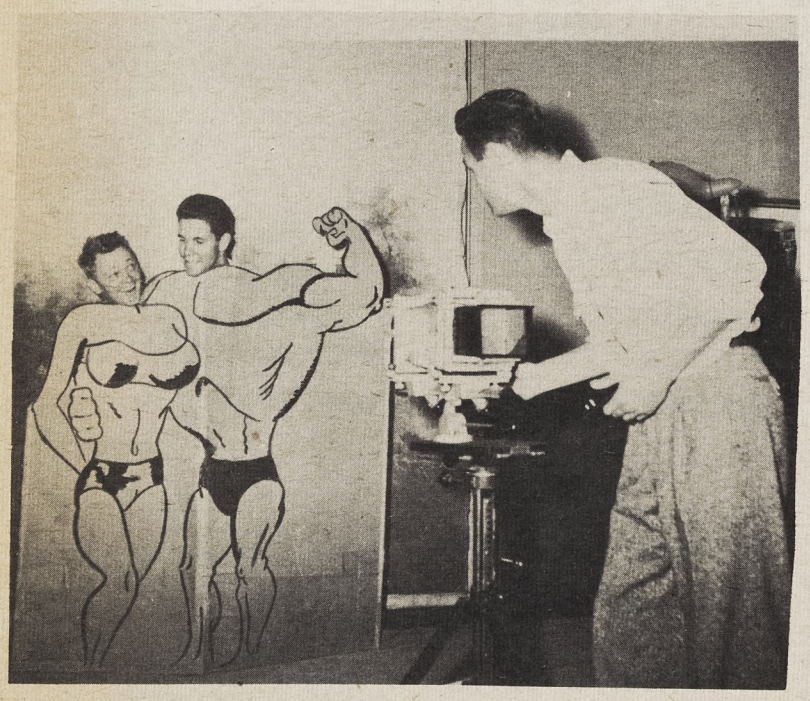

The business department group is busy hoeing the weeds during last year's Work Play Day.

One of the department groups of last year, headed by Mrs. Marshall, is shown making the lines on the football field for the relay races during last year's Work-Play Day.

MUSICAL NOTES

The MPC band traveled to Concord, California, a few days ago in response to an invitation extended to them by the East Contra Costa Junior College. The invitation to put on an assembly program was given to the band when they played at the recent California Student Government Association held at Asilomar last fall.

According toDr. Hubbard, musical director, the band received their best reception yet, bar none. East Contra Costa really out did themselves to roll out the red carpet for our musicians. There was a fully decorated automobile caravan to escort them into the campus. When they arrived at the school the first thing they saw was a huge banner which read, "Welcome Monterey." After each number, during their program, the band was greeted with a tremendous round of applause. All this fanfare really put the band on their toes. Says Dr. Hubbard, "We just couldn't do a thing wrong."

After this successful performance the band was whisked to the local eatery where they were guests of honor at a banquet headed by students officers and members of the faculty. (A perfect way to end a perfect day.) Undoubtedly no matter where they may roam, the band can always say, "They sure liked us at Contra Costa!"

THE SHAME OF IT ALL

You have no doubt heard of the absent-minded professor? Well, a few days ago one of our campus co-eds (I'll mention no names--ethics, you know,) was sitting in the student union when she discovered a rather embarrassing fact. In her haste to dress for her morning class she had forgotten to put on her skirt! (Don't laugh, this really happened.) Fortunarely, she had, however, put on a long coat which covered up for her. (The coat stayed on all day.)
